

Special Guest Lecture
MARY E. MAXON, Ph.D.

Mary Maxon, PhD.

- Head of Strategic Planning and Development for the Biosciences Area at the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
- Former Assistant Director for Biological Research, The White House Office of Science and Technology Policy, Washington DC
- Former Deputy Executive Director, President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology, Washington DC
- Former Marine Microbiology Initiative Lead, The Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation

“Scientists, Sciences & Science Policy:
From the Bench to the White House”

September 26, 2013 4:00 – 5:00 p.m.

The Genome & Biomedical Science Facility (GBSF) – Auditorium, Room 1005

Jointly sponsored by the Graduate Groups in Microbiology (MGG) and Immunology (GGI)